The house and furniture at 20 Railroad Street, of the late Mrs. Mary Rogers, will be sold at auction on the premises, Friday, Aug. 20, at 2 p. m.

LOCAL GATHERINGS.

The CALEDONIAN office has been the recipient within the past few weeks of some of the most beautiful sweet peas, both in perfection and variety, it has ever been its privilege to enjoy.

They came from the farm of M. A. Fay, near this village, and he says he could probably pick 1000 blossoms any day from his 40 varieties during the remainder of their season. Parties wanting these in large or small quantities can get them by addressing him, R. F. D. 1, St. Johnsbury, or telephoning to A. N. Daniels, 72-14.

The case against Harry Dana and Leon Bilodeau, who were charged with furnishing intoxicating liquor, was not pressed as there was no evidence to warrant the charge preferred.

An increase in pension has been allowed Henry S. Young, at the rate of $15 per month from July 21, 1909.

Examination of pupils for entrance to St. Johnsbury Academy will be held at the Union School on Thursday and Friday, August 26 and 27.

Brightlook Hospital has admitted the following patients since last week: Mrs. T. C. Jones of Newport, Mrs. Mary Sulham of Greensboro, Mrs. F. E. Hartshorn of Bangor, Miss Eliza Drew, Mrs. Lydia H. Newell, Mrs. Fred Woods, all of St. Johnsbury, Rudd Lowrey of Pawtucket, R. L. Richard Lowrey of Northumberland, Lawrence Shorey of Lyndonville, Alice Dexter of Barton. Those discharged are: Sydney Perkins of Newport Center, Frank H. Merrifield of North Monroe, Mrs. Ellen Salina, John Carpenter, Walter Carson and Leslie Morrill, all of St. Johnsbury, George Alford of East Burke, Alice Dexter of Barton, Lawrence Shorey of Lyndonville, Richard Lowrey of Northumberland, Rudd Lowrey of Pawtucket.

Anthony McCormick has sold his farm on the Passumpsic road to Peter Collins of Lyndonville, and will come back here to live.

At Stanley Opera House on Monday evening, Aug. 23, Miss Mabel Aubrey and her Broadway Co. will present the Road of Yester Years. The company comes well recommended and the play ought to draw a good house.

Tax payers are reminded that 90 days from August 17 is November 15 and the time limit expires at midnight of that day.

There will be no band concert this week, owing to the absence of several of the players. The next will be in Summerville on Tuesday evening, Aug. 24. The two remaining concerts will be given at the Railroad street and Main street stands respectively.

The following letters are advertised at the post office: Ladies—Bailey, Miss Abbie, Clise, Mrs. R. H., Hunter, Miss Bernice, LaClair, Mrs. A. S., Nay, Mrs. Henry M., Plimpton, Miss, Story, Mrs. Jennie. Gentlemen—Ayre, Plummer, Cook, J. B. & Son, Willy, B. M., Young, Fred A.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Washburn moved Monday from Portland street to 128 Railroad street.

New patients at St. Johnsbury Hospital are Alfred Forbes and Joe Paradis of St. Johnsbury. Miss Adelle Frederick of St. Johnsbury has been discharged.

Dr. B. E. Doyle's office will be closed all next week.

Weeks-Johnson Wedding. Clarence B. Weeks and Miss Eola D. Johnson were married on Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Cowling. The ceremony was performed at eight o'clock by Rev. J. M. Frost, two rings being used. Only the immediate relatives were present. The house was prettily decorated with sweet peas and the ceremony took place in front of a bank of evergreen and white sweet peas. The rings were carried by little Marion Cowling on a testament, and Helen Johnson and Reginald Cowling placed the pillows on which the bride and groom knelt. The bride's dress was of white embroidered batiste and she wore a tulle veil fastened with white sweet peas and carried a shower bouquet of the same flowers. The bride's gifts to the ring bearers and ushers were beauty pins and to Reginald Cowling a book. There were many beautiful wedding gifts including china, silver, pictures, linen and money.

A reception was held after the ceremony during which refreshments were served in the dining room by Miss Ida Farmer, Miss Ida Kahlo and Mrs. H. C. Stanton. Mr. and Mrs. Weeks are now enjoying a trip to Washington and Baltimore.

The annual year book of the St. Johnsbury Woman's Club announces some very attractive programs to be given throughout the year, all but two to be given during the remainder of the year, which began in May, are to be given by local talent. During the past year 26 new members were added to the club and two were removed by death. At the close of the past year, May 1, 1909, the membership numbered 223. As has been announced before a gift of $250 was given the club by A. H. McLeod and daughters, the income to be used toward district nursing, the gift to be called "The Mary McLeod Memorial Fund," in addition to this voluntary gift of $25 from H. N. Turner and $10 from Mrs. Ashton R. Willard have been given for district nursing; and $36.50 has been given by seven club members for the same fund.

The following programs will be given during the year: September 6. In charge of forestry committee, Miss Bridget Rooney, chairman. Papers on "Why Reforest the Land?" by Charles H. Horton; and "Preservation of the Trees and Shrubs," by Miss Eleanor A. Doran.

October 4. In charge of music committee, Mrs. Amy L. Stanley, chairman. A musical program will be given including selections by a ladies' double quartet, readings by Mrs. B. E. Doyle, selections by Young's Orchestra with Miss Alice B. Warden, pianist, and vocal selections by Mrs. B. C. Peters.

November 1. In charge of travel and current events committee, Mrs. Ruthy P. Fairbanks, chairman. An evening lecture will be given on "Latest News from Mars," by Mrs. Mabel Loomis Todd of Amherst, Mass.

December 6. In charge of social science committee, Mrs. Prelove Spaulding, chairman. Rev. J. M. Frost will give a talk on "Our Attitude toward the Less Fortunate."

January 3. In charge of education committee, Mrs. Edith R. Braley, chairman. Miss Elizabeth L. Hall of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., will speak on "Some Phases of Education."

February 7. The musical and social committees will combine their efforts for gentlemen's night. Mrs. Amy L. Stanley and Mrs. Lucella Nichols are the chairmen of these committees.

March 7. In charge of history and literature committee, Mrs. Adrienne L. Palmer, chairman. Mrs. Caroline L. Taylor will speak on "Some Things Worth Talking About," and Mrs. Amelia Porter will speak on "Junior Civic League."

College Club Meeting. The College Club is invited to the home of Mrs. P. F. Hazen, Thursday afternoon at 5 o'clock. Supper will be served at 5.30, and all ladies who have ever attended any college are most cordially invited.

Vermonters Wins.

Fred H. Harris of Brattleboro Defeats George W. Pike of Springfield, Mass., in Ninth Annual Tournament.—Championships in Doubles Defeated to C. H. Collier and C. T. Porter.

After five days of classy tennis the ninth annual open tournament for the championship of Vermont came to a close Saturday afternoon with the championship round between F. H. Harris of Brattleboro, challenger, and George W. Pike of Springfield, Mass., champion for 1908. The former won in straight sets, 8-6, 6-3, 6-1, and a Vermont's name again adorns the cup after a lapse of seven years. The championship in doubles also changed hands, Hooker and Pike, 1908 champions, being unable to defend their titles on account of Hooker's enforced absence, thus defaulting to C. H. Collier of Gardner, Mass., and C. T. Porter of Worcester, the challengers.

Probably the best tennis of the tournament was seen Friday when Harris and J. H. McVeagh fought out the finals. The match continued four fast sets before the Phillips Exeter man was downed. The finals in the doubles also attracted considerable attention, Collier and Porter defeating Ricker and Spaulding in straight sets, but not without some sharp tennis. Saturday's championship match called out a good company of spectators and both challenger and champion were encouraged by the applause to do their best. Mr. Pike came here against the doctor's orders to defend his title and though he showed the effects of his recent illness he was game to the core. It is doubtful though whether he could have taken the match, even if in shape, for Harris played an almost faultless game and was as steady as a clock. His service had steam and he placed the ball with a precision that worried his opponent and showed complete mastery of every situation.

Pike showed some of his real form in the first set and the score was "deuce" twice before the Brattleboro man captured it. In the first three games of the second set Pike again revealed some of the skill that made him a winner in 1908, but after that he seemed to weary and Harris won the next six games in quick succession. Pike was plainly distressed and the play slowed down in the third set, Harris evidently saving himself for a possible burst of speed from his opponent, which however never came. Only seven games were necessary to give the Vermont the third and last set and the championship of Vermont.

Mr. Harris, the new champion, is a junior in Dartmouth College and champion of the New England Inter-Collegiate Tournament. Pike and Harris now have a leg apiece on the handsome sterling cup, which becomes the property of the player winning it three times. The cups offered for the tournament by the tennis department of the Old Pine Golf Club were awarded as follows: Singles—championship cup, F. H. Harris, tournament, F. H. Harris; runner-up, J. H. McVeagh; consolation cup, C. T. Porter; Doubles—championship cups by default, C. H. Collier and C. T. Porter; tournament, Collier and Porter; runners-up, A. A. Ricker and R. W. Spaulding.

Following is the official score of the tournament:

Pandora at Brantview.

If the readers of the CALEDONIAN ever saw a play given out of doors, on a green lawn, with real trees and shrubbery for scenery, they will not miss the opportunity to see "Pandora" when it is given on the grounds of Brantview two weeks hence. The play is admirably adapted for outdoor presentation, and the performance will surely be one of the most artistic ever produced here.

The calendar provides a full moon, which with the novel lighting effects that are planned will render the scene one of unusual beauty. A matinee for children at reduced prices is planned for Tuesday afternoon, August 31, to which adults will be admitted only if accompanied by a child. The real opportunity for grown-ups to see the play comes Tuesday evening, August 31. In case the weather should forbid the affair will be given Thursday evening, September 2d. Tickets for children's matinee .25 and .35; for the evening performance a limited number of 75 cents, all others .50. Public sale of tickets begins at Bingham's drug store and Stiles' store Thursday morning, August 26. Remember that the proceeds go half and half to Brightlook Hospital and the Y. M. C. A. Here is the cast appearing in the play:

Theo—Miss Alice Ricker.
Pandora—Miss Hortense Peters.
Althea—Mrs. Mabel French.
Hate—Miss Frances Richardson.
Greed—Miss Marion Patterson.
Mercury—Miss Jean Stanley.
Hope—Miss Madeleine Polinsky.
Shepherd—Miss Isabel Noyes.

Letter from Abroad.

C. C. Bingham recently received a letter from his daughter Katherine in Venice. It was postmarked August 1 and took 13 days to reach here, which is slow time. The party expected to go from Venice to Florence, Rome, Pisa, Geneva, and then Paris, which they were to have reached Monday night. This will be their last stop and they plan to sail from Boulogne on the 23rd of this month. They are due at New York, Sept. 1.

Miss Amy B. Drake left the party some time ago and is now well on her way home. The whole party are in the best of spirits, for they are having the "time of their lives."

Church Notes.

First Church of Christ, Scientist, Pythian Hall, Sunday morning service 10.45. Subject, "Mind." The reading room is in the Bank block, corner Main street and Eastern avenue and is open daily except Sunday from 2.30 to 5 p. m., also Tuesday, and Saturday evenings from 7.30 to 9.

The Ladies' Circle of the Church of the Messiah will meet with Mrs. William Miller, Railroad street, Thursday afternoon.

Rev. Warren Fairbanks of Philadelphia will be the preacher at the union service on Sunday evening. The place will be announced later.

Rev. Dr. S. G. Barnes will conduct the usual service at the South church next Sunday morning.

At the Colonial Theatre.

The new theatre company in town, Fox and Eaton, are to be congratulated on the success of the plays so far produced by the Gage Stock Company in the Music Hall building, now known as the Colonial Theatre. Fine scenery is used, in which beautiful colors and a skillful arrangement of the stage settings give an impression of stage depth and "atmosphere." The costumes are beautiful and harmonize perfectly with the surroundings. The parts have been so well taken that it is exceedingly difficult to choose the best, although perhaps the audience has most appreciated the acting of Frederick Gage, D. E. Bean, and Anna Leon. Monday evening Walt Arthur received several encores for his "between the acts" specialty, besides evoking uproarious laughter by his clever work in the leading comedy part of "His Majesty and the Maid." Funny moving pictures and finely illustrated songs make a pleasant diversion between the scenes of the plays.

The following plays are announced for the rest of the week: tonight, "The Rival Candidates;" Thursday, "The Golden Rule;" Friday, "The Belle of Richmond;" Saturday, "Sappho;" Sunday matinee, "The Rival Candidate."

D. A. R. Meeting.

St. John de Crevecoeur chapter, D. A. R. observed Bennington Day Monday afternoon when they were guests of Miss Fannie E. Russell. The program consisted of readings appropriate to the day and Mrs. Rebecca P. Fairbanks gave an interesting report of the Tercentenary exercises at Isle La Motte. To fill vacancies in the list of officers due to several resignations these were elected: Mrs. W. S. Boynton, regent; Miss Caroline S. Woodruff, vice regent; and Mrs. E. H. Ross, treasurer. After the meeting the hostess served light refreshments.
